What is Extracorporeal Lithotripsy?

Extracorporeal lithotripsy is the best available technology of utilising shock waves to fragment kidney and urinary stones. The fragmented stones are passed out of the body spontaneously as sand particles in urine.

The Lithotripsy Centre is established in 1987. With state-of-the-art equipment, our experienced urologists, radiologists and radiographers are dedicated to providing high quality services for patients.

Before treatment

After treatment

X-ray films of the urinary system and all other relevant data should be brought to the Centre for assessment.
